

1. Click on "I WANT TO PARTICIPATE"

The screenshot shows a session titled "Does Europe's Democracy need a fundamental update?" for the "European Union" region. It features a video grid of participants and the Pulse of Europe logo. Below the video, it lists the session in three languages: German (EUROPÄISCHE HAUSPARLAMENTE), French (DÉBAT PARTICIPATIF EUROPÉEN), and English (EUROPEAN HOMEPARLIAMENTS). A statistics bar shows 5 scheduled meetings, 0 ended sessions, and 32 participants. A banner at the bottom indicates the session runs until 18 Mar 2022 and includes a prominent "I WANT TO PARTICIPATE" button with a red arrow pointing to it labeled "Click".

2. Decide whether you want to register as a HOST or PARTICIPANT

The screenshot displays the "Join now" registration section. It includes the text "Register as a host or participant for free and shape politics actively." and four icons representing different registration paths: "Register quickly and easily", "or be invited invite", "Hold house parliament online or offline", and "Upload results and view evaluation". Below this, a "Registration" section offers two choices: "as a host" (with a description: "To set the time and place fixed, invite friends, and participation can also open for others.") and "as participants" (with a description: "Meetings will be proposed to you by the respective hosts with time and place."). A large blue and red arrow labeled "Choose" points from the registration options towards the right.

Free Confirm: Registration for your house Parliament

Hello Mrs Smith,

You have registered to host a House Parliament on "Does Europe's Democracy need a fundamental update?". So that we can complete your registration, please click on the following button:

Your confirmation is necessary so that we can rule out the misuse of foreign e-mail addresses. Once your registration is complete, we will send you a another e-mail with all the important information and the next steps to your house Parliament.

It's nice that you want to play an active role in shaping politics!

Best regards
The openPetition team

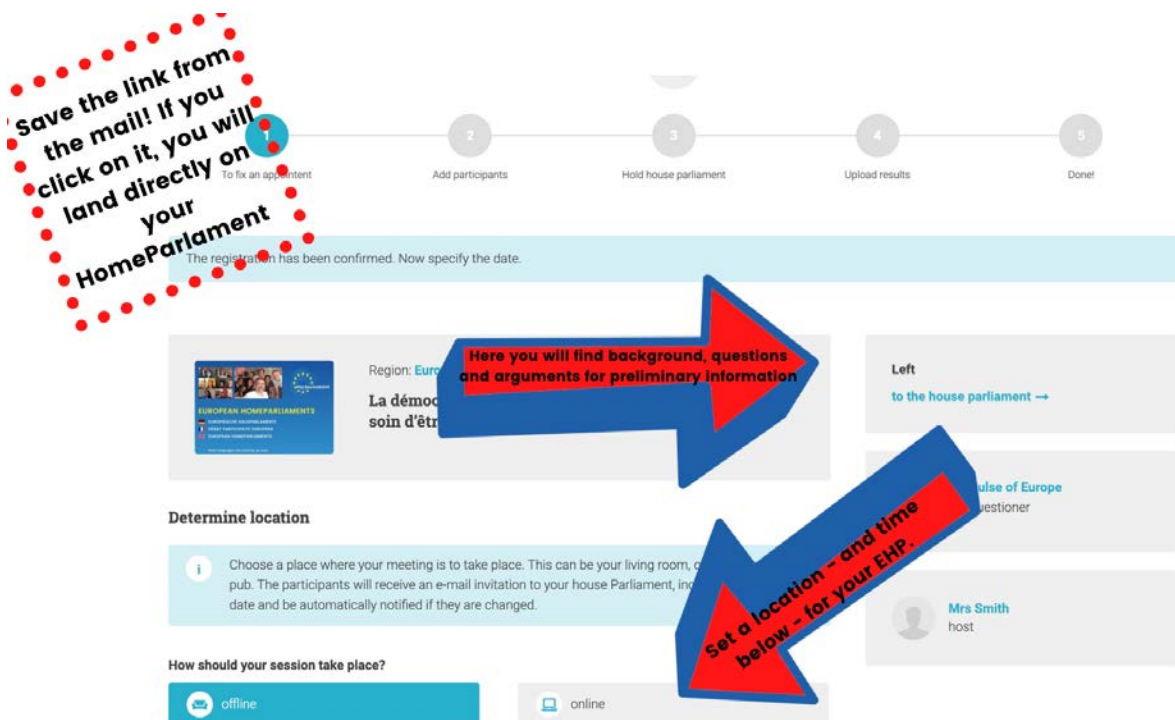

You will receive an email with:
• the direct link to your European HomeParliament
• and explanations on how to proceed next.

- Under “Your HomeParliament” you can, if you wish, first find out about the background and arguments for your European HomeParliament - see link in the right-hand section.

Back in the main menu, you can set the time and place of your HomeParliament.

If you want to check with your participants first, just come back later when you know the time and place. You can also change the time and place at any time!

You can also choose whether you want to hold your HomeParliament offline (i.e. in a face-to-face meeting) or online (i.e. via video chat). OpenPetition provides a video platform, that makes it pretty easy to meet digitally for all participants.

The registration has been confirmed. Now specify the date.

Save the link from the mail! If you click on it, you will land directly on your HomeParliament

Here you will find background, questions and arguments for preliminary information

Set a location - and time below - for your EHP.

- Now you can also download the documents for the European HomeParliament in the right-hand section.

Now enter the participants of your European HomeParliament. If you enter the email addresses, an invitation email will be sent immediately with the date, place and further explanations and links.

8. All preparations on the platform are now completed.

In the right-hand area you will find all the necessary documents to download. You will also find the link to enter your results later. You can change or add participants at any time before the start of your European HomeParliament - and also change the place and date.

We wish you lots of fun and success with your European HomeParliament!

The documents for the participants are now also available in the download area. Also the link to the result input after your EHP.
